One of a Kind Show Dec 3-6 Chicago

one of a kind

Show and Sale® Chicago

Happy December everyone!

December means the One of a Kind Show and Sale Chicago is just around the corner, starting this Thursday, December 3. Dolan is over at the Mart now bringing in the first load of work as I take care of things around the studio. The show officially begins on Thursday at noon and continues through Sunday at 5pm. If you're in town or have family in the area, direct them to this PAGE to print a free pass with code ECPFriend. We'll be setup in a new spot this year in booth 5053 (see floor plan). New this year, be sure to visit the Etsy Pavilion to view works by 25 Etsy sellers and to pick up a map of Etsy sellers participating in this year's One of a Kind Show and Sale. Click HERE for more information about this year's special features.

Hoping to view specific works at the One of a Kind Show? While we will have many of our originals and BOX PRINT reproductions with us at the show, feel free to drop us a line to ask about a specific piece.

For more about the One of a Kind Show, visit their website and also follow with Orange Beautiful's The Scoop blog for some great One of a Kind Show picks. Emily, of Orange Beautiful, will be set up in booth 7055 with beautiful paper goods including letterpress printed cards, handmade boxes and boxes, screen-printed stationery, and journals.

Can't make it to the show? View our entire inventory of available works online at dolangeiman.etsy.com.

Psst: look for an article about Dolan and the One of a Kind Show in this week's Chicago Sun Times!
